Introduction

Budget justifications are detailed written materials, data, and supporting documents provided by federal agencies that expand upon and support the President's yearly budget submission to Congress.<sup>1</sup> In form and content, the justifications may vary by agency. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) provides yearly instructions to the agencies for producing materials to be included in the President's budget submission and agency budget justifications. Each summer, OMB issues these instructions as part of a document entitled, Circular No. A-11: Preparation, Submission, and Execution of the Budget.<sup>2</sup>

The release of the budget justifications occurs soon after the release of the President's annual budget submission and in advance of congressional hearings on agency budget requests.<sup>3</sup> Agencies submit budget justifications to the appropriations subcommittees to support the agency testimony and inform congressional deliberations. Beginning with the FY2008 executive budget cycle, agencies have also been required to post their congressional budget justification materials on the Internet within two weeks of transmittal to Congress.<sup>4</sup>

For more information, see CRS Report RS20268, Agency Justification of the President's Budget, by Michelle D. Christensen. Also see CRS Report 98-721, Introduction to the Federal Budget Process, coordinated by Bill Heniff Jr., which, in addition to providing a broader perspective on the budget process, includes a discussion of how the President's budget submission fits into the subsequent congressional budget process.
